

RUG BEIGE CIEL VAGUE

Designer

Anne-C. Baudequin, Mathieu Maldas

Description

Ciel vague is a reflection on the rug as a medium to give a "soul" to the habitat. It evokes a soothing feeling, the comfort and warmth of the dunes when the sun disappears from the horizon. Its patterns play with the randomness of sand waves. It can be the support of multiple situations, a discussion between friends, a period of rest, a space for contemplation ... Ciel Vague is a hand-tufted rug in 100% New Zealand wool. Plain background in light beige (pompom n°25). Waves in chiné gris mastic (n°41) / light beige (n°25). The waves are embossed with a different height of tuft (from 1cm to 4cm) for each wave, increasing and decreasing like the movement of the sea left on the sand.
